You are the only student that's been here longer than me. Meet my husband everyone, Terrence Ross. Sir dad? Want some rice with that Sriracha? Our organizer and supplier, what would we do without her. Try and find something Emma hasn't been involved with. Finally, after all those years, you made it out. "Don't look down Emma hundreds of crabs might be next to your feet right now." Most hardworking person I know! T.I.A.! "I think there's someone in my mum's office." I can do the lights.

Myriam Valcourt

A French proverb says: in the smallest pot comes the best ointment, well you are the proof of that. So, what did you write for chemistry? Attachment: skit for tomorrow. The next big vlog star on Youtube. The most reliable and best teamwork partner. Is that how they do things in Saint-Quentin? Wouldn't have survived the year without you. "Hey guys, it's day 1 and it's so hot", "Hey guys, its day 2 and its still so hot!" "Something something something volleyball."

Emma Page

The toughest girl I know, you are always there to help everyone, and I can't say thank you enough. Guys, I'm not here this weekend. Furiously lifting heavy weights. Beating you in a race was probably the peak of my athletics career. Her conscientious and loyal character is what defines her. "Have you started your homework?", "No, you?", "Nope." You made my last year the best one. T.I.A.! "Guys, please go to the gym for cadets!" "Read the group chat, doesn't answer."

Maia Fortin Xu

You might be the only person who's been able to support me for six years. "Look at this guy on UOttawa group chat!" She has a dentist appointment. And the award for having cutest dog goes to: How to keep Maia happy; good food and sleep. Lots of love for all six years of embarrassment and fun together. My Mamamia, my cheetos buddy, my everything "Happy new year!" Je sais pas moi!

Give that girl some mac and cheese already! Sometimes you've got so much energy that I get tired just watching you go crazy. I'm pretty sure we disagree on everything except for our love for mac & cheese. After spending 3 years in the same room, I don't know how I will handle the distance. I want mac and cheese! She brings liveliness to all and deserves all the mac & cheese in the world. My partner since day one. You and I against la nation du Québec. Couldn't have done it without you and Denis. "Can you please tie my shoes?"
